

Innovations with Ed Begley Jr.* to feature ebm-papst in upcoming episode DMG Productions explores the latest breakthroughs in sustainability and energy management

Farmington, Conn., November 6, 2014 — A world leader in fans and motor technology and strong advocate for continuous environmental responsibility, ebm-papst will be featured in an upcoming airing of Innovations with Ed Begley, Jr., scheduled to broadcast on Wednesday, November 19, 2014 at 7:30 a.m. ET and 7:30 a.m. PST, via Discovery Channel.

“At ebm-papst, we provide our customers with high quality products using state-of-the-art methods and responsible business practices while fulfilling today’s demand for energy efficiency and materials conservation,” said Bob Sobolewski, President and CEO of ebm-papst Inc. “We’re delighted to participate in Ed Begley Jr.’s Innovations series, which aligns so well with our eco-friendly products and our GreenTech business philosophy.”

The program offers a behind-the-scenes look at engineered solutions for air moving technology, how energy consumption affects manufacturers and consumers, and how higher efficiency fan motors play a major role in reducing energy use.

“In filming the episode, we were impressed with ebm-papst’s extensive in-house resources and capabilities,” said Robert Sikich, producer for the series. “Their total solution approach to cooling requirements provides customers significant cost and energy savings. We look forward to bringing this story to our Discovery Channel audience.”
